DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to the election filed January 16, 2006.

Election/Restrictions

2. Applicant's election without traverse of Embodiment X on 1/16/06 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kao et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,495,967).

In regards to claim 12, Kao et al. ("Kao") discloses the following:

a) a rear substrate (For Example: See Figure 7);

b) at least one set of alignment marks is installed on the front and rear substrates, the set of alignment marks comprise a first and second pattern installed on the predetermined assembling position of the first and second substrate respectively, the second pattern comprises at least a hexagonal honeycomb pattern formed with rib barriers (722), a line segment of the first pattern is parallel to at least one side of the hexagonal honeycomb pattern with a predetermined distance therebetween, and the first and second patterns are used to align between the front and rear substrates, when assembling a PDP (For Example: See Figure 7).

In regards to claim 13, Kao discloses the following:

a) the first pattern comprises a plurality of parallel line segments (For Example: See Figure 7).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kao et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,495,967) in view of Boo et al. (Korean Publication No. 2002019353).

In regards to claim 22, Kao fails to disclose the following:

a) the first pattern installed on the front substrate comprises non-transparent bus electrode material or black matrix material.

However, Boo et al. ("Boo") discloses a semiconductor device that has a first pattern installed on the front substrate (10) comprises non-transparent bus electrode material (13) or black matrix material (For Example: See Abstract). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the semiconductor of Kao to include a first pattern installed on the front substrate that comprises a non-transparent bus electrode material or black matrix material as disclosed in Boo because it aids in providing a discharge sustain function (For Example: See Abstract).

Additionally, since Kao and Boo are both from the same field of endeavor, the purpose disclosed by Boo would have been recognized in the pertinent art of Kao.
